

FAITH, PEACE, AND THE TWO-STATE SOLUTION: A Jewish-Christian Forum

Join us for an inspirational forum that will bring together Jewish and Christian religious leaders to discuss what we can do together to help the Israeli and Palestinian people move forward toward peace and a two-state solution. All too often, our shared values of peace and reconciliation are drowned out by polarizing voices in our community. The goal of our forum is to, instead, bring light to this issue by promoting civil discourse, strengthening our interfaith relations and providing faith leaders with practical tools to support peace and the two-state solution that they can bring back to their congregations and communities.

Sunday, November 16

2:00 P.M. to 7:30 P.M.

Pacific Lutheran Theological Seminary

2770 Marin Avenue, Berkeley, CA

(At the top of Marin Avenue, in the Chapel, where the road ends.)

PLEASE REGISTER by November 12th

Registration: <http://tinyurl.com/faithpeace2state>

Cost: $25 per person, including dinner (Kosher dietary laws will be observed).

NO COST FOR THEOLOGICAL STUDENTS (use discount code gtustudent when registering.)

No one will be turned away due to an inability to pay.

For more information contact Karen Stiller at the JCRC: kstiller@jcrc.org or 415-977-7413

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS:

Peter Pettit

The Reverend Peter A. Pettit, Ph.D., co-director of New Paths: Christians Engaging Israel (a program of the Shalom Hartman Institute), is director of the Institute for Jewish-Christian Understanding and Associate Professor of Religion Studies at Muhlenberg College in Allentown, PA. A Lutheran minister (ELCA), he has been affiliated with the Hartman Institute theology conference since its inception in 1984 and continues to serve on its planning team. He has held residential fellowships at the Hebrew University, American Jewish University, and the Oxford Centre for Hebrew and Jewish Studies. His research and teaching focus on the hermeneutics of self-understanding in the Jewish and Christian communities. He has authored several curriculum resources for interfaith encounter.

Marcie Lenk

Dr. Marcie Lenk is a Shalom Hartman Institute research fellow, the institute's Director of Christian Leadership Programs and Co-Director of New Paths: Christians Engaging Israel. She received her Ph.D. at Harvard University with a dissertation entitled, The Apostolic Constitutions: Judaism and Anti-Judaism in the Construction of Christianity. For more than two decades she has taught Early Christianity, Hebrew Bible, and Rabbinic Literature at institutions such as Boston University and City College of NY, as well as at Jewish and Christian seminaries in Israel and the United States.

Sponsored by: Jewish Community Relations Council & Pacific Lutheran Theological Seminary

JCRC is appreciative of the work of the Shalom Hartman Institute of North America and the support of the Koret Foundation in making its speakers and materials available